

Flooding on the Bitterroot River May 20, 2008

Montana DNRC Floodplain Management

The Bitterroot River is a tributary of the Clark Fork River in southwestern Montana, USA. It runs for about 75 miles (121 km) south-to-north through the Bitterroot Valley, from the confluence of its West and East forks near Conner to the Clark Fork near Missoula.

Bitterroot River Flooding 2008

Bitterroot River Flooding 2008

Bitterroot River Flooding 2008

